40 MEMBERS IN WEST 63RD ST. ORGANIZATION

New Business Group at Work On Evening Closing Schedule

Discussion over the advisability of closing three nights a week occupied the center of interest at the second meeting of the West 63rd Street Business Men's association held at the Englewood Turner hall last Wednesday night

Pending a time when the association would have a greater representation of the business men in the district from Halsted st. west to Elizabeth st. and from 62nd st south to 64th st, the territory covered by the organization, no definite action was taken.

The association was organized a month ago by twelve of the business men and at that time Samuel Bernstein was elected president, Michael Frisch, secretary, and Morris Potter, treasurer. The men will remain in office until January.

At the second meeting the membership increased to forty, representing about half of the stores in the territory The stores in this vicinity have been in the practice of remaining open every night and in an effort to agree upon certain nights of closing, as well as other matters concerning the business men, the association was formed.

Another meeting is to be held tonight, Wednesday, and following this the meetings will be held the second and fourth Wednesdays in the month. A committee has been hard at work obtaining memberships.

DISTRICT DIRECTOR OF NATURALIZATION TALKS TO KIWANIANS

MINSTREL SHOW COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN REPORT PROGRESS OF ENTERTAINMENT PLANS

One person of every four living in Chicago is foreign born and but half of these are naturalized. At present the district naturalization office is over seven months behind in its work

These facts were given at the weekly meeting of the Englewood Kiwanis club Tuesday by Fred J. Schlotfeldt, district director of the United States Department of Labor Naturalization Service, the speaker of the day.

"There are more than 800,000 foreign born persons in Chicago," said Mr. Schlotfeldt, "and only half of this number are naturalized. We are now naturalizing almost 1,000 applicants a month. Three conditions at present are making a large number of people come to claim citizenship papers and for that reason the district office is unable to handle all the work it is asked to do.

"Hundreds who claimed exemption during the war as aliens are asking to be naturalized now that the five years has elapsed since they stated that they could not show allegiance to this country, while many more, fearing the stringent immigration laws might result in their deportation, are asking to be naturalized. A third class is anxious to obtain citizenship papers in order to vote in the presidential election."

Mr. Schlotfeldt explained the new law that went into effect September 21, 1922, and changed the previous law making a woman owe allegiance to the same country as did her husband.

Reports were made at the meeting by all committee chairmen arranging the details of the minstrel show and musical comedy to be given by the club at the South Side Masonic temple on the evenings of October 29 and 30.

At all three rehearsals this week, as well as the dress rehearsal to be held next Monday, the entertainment will be practiced in its entirety. A Benson orchestra of six pieces will furnish the music for the minstrel show, the musical comedy, and the dance that will follow the stage programs.

CLEANING SHOP BURGLARS GET $4,000 "HAUL"

Englewood Police Arrest Five Here With Loot From East Side

Clothing valued at over $4,000, left in the Corbin Dyeing and Cleaning company's office, 7225 Wentworth ave., for cleaning, was stolen Wednesday morning of last week when the place was burglarized.

Practically every garment left in the store was taken by the burglars and when Miss Zena McLane, an employee, opened the place Wednesday she found only a few pieces of wearing apparel scattered about the place. Entrance had been gained by forcing open the rear door and from the quantity of stuff taken it was evident that it was hauled away in a motor truck.

A number of similiry burglaries have occurred on the south side recently and while in the act of moving a truck load of loot stolen in a burglary on the Drexel Cleaners and Dyers, 4720 Cottage Grove ave., into a house at 6620 Union ave. early Friday morning the men, who later confessed to the crime, were arrested by Officers Henry Busam and John R Watson of the Englewood station.

The burglary had been committed two hours before and $3,000 worth of wearing apparel was taken after the robbers had beaten into unconsciousness John Ellis, the watchman. They had gained entrance to the store by knocking in a manner familiar to employees of the firm.

The policemen noticed a truck in the alley in the rear of the Union ave. address and upon investigating they found Ray Burley, 35, 534 W. 63rd st, carrying into the house quantities of women's dresses and coats. In the house they found still more wearing apparel and Frank Ray, 20, 6956 May st., one of the two burglars, Hugh Cullen, 25, and his wife, Lillian, 21, who make their home there and Lillian Charleston, 17 years old, who had run away from her home at 6427 Harper ave.

All were taken into custody and the goods found in their possession was identified by A. Oslan, proprietor of the Drexel Cleaners. Burley and Ray were charged with burglary and arraigned in the boys' court Saturday when their cases were continued to November 13. On the complaint of Mrs. Maud Charleston, Cullen and his wife were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

According to Wilson Corbin, proprietor of the Corbin Dyeing and Cleaning company, the stock of goods —women's dresses, fur coats, and men's suits—was not insured but arrests made by the police of gangs of clothing store burglars makes him hopeful of recovering the loot.

EAST HAMILTON PARK HOME OWNERS TO ELECT ADDITIONAL DIRECTORS

REPRESENTATIVES FOR BLOCKS IN THE DISTRICT SOUGHT BY ASSOCIATION

Directors for blocks in the district included in the East Hamilton Park Home Owners' association will be elected at meetings of property owners of the vicinity to be called within the near future, the directors and special committees of the organization decided Monday night at their special session in the office of James Hyland, 7303 Vincennes ave.

Each block of land holders is urged to have a representative, or director, in the association who will be empowered to submit to various committees local grievances upon which action is desired by the owners.

"Attendance at these block meetings is important to all property owners, since it will afford their only opportunity to have a voice in the selection of the directors of their respective districts," said George A. Fitzgerald, president.

Those meetings will be open to members and non-members of the organization. There are twenty-eight blocks within the territory of 69th and 77th sts. and Vincennes and Wentworth aves. and State st. The association desires a director in each of them.

Names and addresses of all property owners in that district have been obtained and the association officers have mapped out the section by streets and blocks preparatory to a campaign for members, 500 of whom they hope to add soon. There are now 250 enrolled Women members are being sought.

Dues were recently reduced from $5 to half that amount for the year. The only obligation imposed on members is retraining from sale of property to persons undesirable for the development of the neighborhood.

Organization of the blocks within 71st and 75th sts. and Perry and Lafayette aves. has been practically completed. Property owners of three or four blocks will hold their meetings at one time for election of directors.

Reports were made of several improvements assured for the locality. Mr. Fitzgerald and Alderman Donald S. McKinlay in conference with Mr. Miller of the city electrical department obtained his promise to place a "mushroom" light at 73rd st. and Vincennes ave. Action has been taken to have a "stop and go" traffic light installed there, also. William B. Thomson, Robert Bowes and W. Wilhelm were named recently to confer with the Englewood Civic and Commercial association on the matter of obtaining a more efficient Southtown sewer system

PUPILS AT SHERWOOD SCHOOL VACCINATED AGAINST SMALL-POX

HEALTH BUREAU ACTS TO CHECK MALADY TO WHICH STUDENT EXPOSED CLASSES

Precautions to prevent the spread of small-pox at Sherwood grade school, 245 W. 57th st., were continued Tuesday by the vaccination of more pupils as a safeguard against contagion. Since the disease manifested itself there in the illness of a pupil October 7, 210 pupils and teachers have been inoculated with the vaccine serum.

John McCannon, colored, 13 years old, 47 W. 59th st., was obliged to leave school on that date, having been ill for twelve days with the malady. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCannon, were small-pox patients while the youth was in school.

Health officials acted at once to protect the staff of instructors and the other students from small-pox, according to a statement Tuesday by Herman Spalding, chief of the bureau of communicable diseases. Persons with whom the vaccination was not effective were again inoculatd Tuesday by a physician assisted by the school nurse.

ENGLEWOOD MAN DIES IN SERVICE AFTER 50 YEARS ON THE LAKES

OLDEST CAPTAIN ON GREAT LAKES WROTE MANY ARTICLES ABOUT EXPERIENCES

After fifty years on the Great Lakes as a shipmaster, Capt. Daniel Buie, aged 75, a resident of Southtown for thirty-five years at the present family home at 433 W. 60th st. died "in the harness." Death came while he was on board the ore-carrier, S. H. Robbins, about thirty miles off Cleveland. At the time he was making his annual inspection tour for the Wilson Transit Co., with which he was connected for thirty-five years.

When Capt. Buie failed to appear for dinner, the captain of the vessel investigated and found the aged navigator dead in his cabin.

Capt. Buie was said to be the oldest captain on the Great Lakes, having started his career when he was but 16. His birthplace was Toronto, Canada, where he got his first knowledge of the water. When only 20 he was mate of the Steamship R. M. Rice.

Among his many experiences with storm, ice floes and shipwreck was one in which he directed the rescue of sixteen people from the Morningstar, wrecked on Lake Erie in 1860.

Knowing the danger zones of the lakes as he did, Capt. Buie was considered a reliable source of advice by shipowners. Some of his knowledge and many of his experiences are contained in magazine stories and articles he wrote in recent years. Among the subjects he wrote on were the dispute between Chicago and Wisconsin over the taking of water from Lake Michigan for canal purposes, and the effect on the lakes of commercial usage of lake water, and destruction of forests.

Surviving Capt Buie are his wife, Jessie, and two daughters, Isabel and Lenore. Funeral services are scheduled for 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

NO SEARCH WARRANT, LIQUOR CASE DISMISSED

"Laws in Chicago appear to be made by Chief of Police Collins instead of by the legislature," stated Thomas Reilly, an attorney defending Sam Pucci, proprietor of a soft drink parlor at 811 W. 65th st., who was arraigned in the Grand Crossing court Thursday charged with violating the prohibition law.

"In spite of rulings from the Supreme court, Chief Collins continues to command officers to make illegal raids without search warrants," declared Attorney Reilly.

The liquor in Pucci's place, two pints of alleged moonshine and a quart of wine, was found by Officers Aldenhovel and Zink of the Englewood station behind a sliding panel back of the bar. The officers had no search warrant. The liquor was confiscated and Pucci was discharged.

DRUGGIST ROBBED AT 63RD AND THROOP

Kidnaped and robbed on his walk home from his store Saturday evening, Nathan Fried, 6344 Throop st, found himself deserted by his assailants in the alley back of St Bernard's church. After leaving his drug store at 1024 W 63rd st., about midnight, Mr. Fried walked to Throop st, where he was accosted by two men who alighted from a Ford. Ordering "hands up," they removed his coat, throwing it over his head and binding his arms down with its sleeves. They robbed him of $72 in cash, a diamond Masonic ring, his watch and chain, valuable papers, and the key to the store, announcing that they proposed to rob the pharmacy.

Fried was then driven about for some time and finally deserted in the car which had been stolen. After gaining his freedom, the victim reported his loss to an officer of the Englewood district who took the Ford into custody.

CHAPMAN HELD WHEN AUTO VICTIM DIES

Walter Chapman, 839 W. 69th st., was held to the grand jury charged with manslaughter Saturday by a coroner's jury at an inquest held for Raymond Smucysinski, 10 years old, 5611 Throop st., who died from injuries received when Chapman's car struck him on October 2 on Halsted st. between Garfield blvd. and 56th st.

OLSEN APPROVES PHYSICAL EXAMS IN OUR SCHOOLS

Great Community Benefit, Says Local Physician, from Health Work

"Physical examination of our children in the public schools," said Dr. E. T. Olsen, supermtendent of the Englewood hospital, when asked his opinions on the matter that is again causing dissention in the city, "is of greater importance to the public than is generally realized.

"That it is objected to by a few people who can see no good in medicine, either preventive or curative, is natural. This, however, constitutes no good reason for discontinuation of the work. Other objectors are found among those who are 'against the government' on all questions as a matter of habit, and perhaps a larger number among those who do not fully understand the purpose and value of those examinations.

"During the years the work has been carried on, the health department of the city of Chicago has developed a splendid and efficient corps of workers. The value of the service to the individual and to the community is undisputable and I believe it has the approval and support of the large majority of the parents of Chicago's children."

Two chief purposes for the examinations Dr. Olsen, who has had extensive experience in school work as well as with the examination of several hundred thousand adults, outlined as follows:

Prevents Contagion Spread

First, some of the acute infectious diseases are most common among children Frequently, "light" attacks of these diseases escape the notice of parents and the children continue to attend school. These diseases are usually spread by direct contact and even the "lightest" case is capable of transmitting the same disease to another child, often with increased severity. Examination of all children early in the school year and re-examination after absence from school, with temporary exclusion of those found affected, is not only beneficial to the child excluded, said Dr. Olsen, but protects all other children from needless exposure to contagion which might otherwise endanger their lives.

Physical defects, physical abnormalties, and incipient disease, are most common causes of "backwardness" of children in schools, Dr. Olsen affirmed, as reason for the second purpose of the examinations.

"Many of these conditions are easily correctible and others curable if proper treatment is begun early," he said. "No attempt is made by the health department or by the board of education to treat any of these conditions or defects. They are however, reported to the parents with the suggestion that the child be referred to the family physician for advice and treatment.

Insurance Companies Use Plan

"The immense value of this work can only be fully appreciated by those who have had experience in it with both children and adults. In my work I have found cases of contagious disease mingling with and endangering other children, while large numbers of adults were found with physical defects, some trivial, some serious, but all having direct bearing upon the earning capacity of the individual.

"A large number of these defects, of permanent or incurable nature, could have been cured or prevented in earlier life had their existence been discovered. The value and necessity of examination work has grown in recent years until some life insurance companies have definite arrangements for periodical examinations of their policy holders along lines similar to our school examinations and many employers have adopted similar plans, all for the benefit of, and without cost to, the individual.

"As for the present school controversy," concluded Dr. Olsen, "it has been stated that no examination will be made in cases where the child or parent objects If this be so, it is to be hoped that the objections of the few, whose compulsory submission is not demanded, will not outweigh the acquiescence of the vast majority in this work of such inestimable value to the community."

TWO LOSE VALUABLES TO HOLD-UP MEN

Archibald Shields, 4404 Drexel blvd., lost $30 and a gold watch to two bandits who held him up at 61st and May sts. early Sunday morning. One of the bandit pair was armed with a revolver and while he forced Shields to hold up his hands, his companion relieved the victim of his valuables

Three armed bandits held up William Lawrence, 5832 Blackstone ave., at 72nd st and Ashland ave. early Friday morning and robbed him of $23.50. He reported the robbery to the Englewood police.

LOCAL YACHTS PRIZE WINNERS

ACCIDENT FIVE YEARS AGO CAUSES DEATH OF ENGLEWOOD MAN

ISAAC HIMMEL SUCCUMBS TO EFFECTS OF FALL ON SIDEWALK

Injuries resulting from a fall on a sidewalk suffered five years ago this month, caused the death of Isaac Himmel, 52 years old, founder of the Himmel Fur store, 435 W. 63rd st., at 7.30 o'clock the evening of October 14. He had lapsed into unconsciousness at his home, 6431 Normal blvd., several days previous and failed to rally.

Since the accident he traveled about the country seeking relief for his ills but was unsuccessful. The complaint settled in his lower limbs necessitating the use of crutches for three and a half years and eventually brought about paralysis of the body from the hips down in June and an affected spine.

Mr. Himmel was born in London, England, and was the son of a furrier. His two brothers and he followed that trade. He came to this country at the age of 12 years Previous to settling in Chicago, he had resided in New York. The Himmel Fur store was started eighteen years ago by him and of recent years his sons have been associated with him in the firm. During the last year he had been unable to work in the store due to his physical condition.

He was a charter member of the Englewood Civic and Commercial association and belonged to the Englewood Lions' club. Since coming to Englewood he was active in the Oir Chodosh congregation.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Himmel, he is survived by three sons, Irvin Himmel, 6431 Normal blvd., Harry Himmel, who resided with his parents, and Louis Himmel, 6429 Normal blvd. A sister, Mrs. William Davis of New York, attended the funeral services which were held at 11 o'clock Thursday morning from the home. Rabbi B. A. Daskal officiated. Burial was in Oak Wood cemetery.

'TWO BUMS' SUBJECT OF LION CLUB TALK; PLAN CHARITY PLAY

ENGLEWOODERS HEAR FOSTER S. NIMS—"THE MIKADO" TO BE PRODUCED SOON

"The Two Bums in Every Community" was the unusual title of a talk by Foster S. Nims, vice president of the American Bank Note company and a resident of Englewood, before this week's meeting of the Englewood Lions' club Tuesday noon at the College cafe.

The "two bums," as Mr. Nims sees them, are "It can't be done" and "What's the use?" His address was an eloquent emphasis on the need of every club member trying to put all he can into his club, rather than seeing how much he can get out of it.

The principal business of the session related to a home talent comic opera, "The Mikado," to be staged by a cast from Parker high school under the Lions' auspices at the Marlowe theater, 63rd st. and Stewart ave., on Monday and Tuesday evenings, November 24-25.

The net proceeds of these performances will be donated to three charities. Although these charities have not yet been selected, it has been decided that one Catholic, one Protestant and one Jewish organization are to benefit These organizations will be sponsored by the club during the remainder of the year.

The speaker at next week's meeting of Englewood Lions will be Wallace Bruce Amsbary, reader, whose subject will be "O. Henry, the Author."

In correction of a published report that Former Judge C. A. Williams who addressed the club on October 7 was of the superior court, Lion officials today pointed out that he was a circuit court judge. Incidentally, he is a resident of the 18th ward.

HALSTED CORNER BRINGS RENTAL OF $4,950,000

Sixty-Third and Halsted Property Scheduled for Improvement

A record-breaking real estate deal for Englewood, closed Monday by William F. Voight, well known Southtown restaurant owner, brought improvement of the southeast corner of Halsted and 63rd sts. near.

If conditions are "right" about four years from date, according to Mr. Voight, who leased the corner, 100x198 feet in area, from Thomas Gaynor of California for ninety-nine years at an annual rental of $50,000, or a total rental of $4,950,000, a two or four-story modern fireproof building covering the entire area involved will be erected. Subleases, some of them running for four more years, make it practically impossible to put up a new structure sooner.

The deal closed by Mr. Voight, who owns the two eating places located at 6309 Halsted st. and 207 W. 63rd st., known as "Ernie's," and who resides at 7121 Princeton ave., includes two two-story buildings and a pair of one-story structures fronting on Halsted st., and the Linden theater building, which is on 63rd st. There is 100 feet of frontage on Halsted st. and 123 feet on 63rd st.

Mr. Voight has been in control of the property for some time, having previously leased it for a period extending from May 1, 1922, until April 30, 1949, at approximately the same yearly rental as the new lease specifies.

Under the terms of the new lease, which dates from Jan. 1, 1925, all taxes, assessments and repairs are to be borne by Mr. Voight, who was represented in the transaction by L. E. Sauter. Mr. Gaynor, who had bought the property from Emil O. Langer for $110,000, had Judge Theodore F. Ehler as his representative. The brokers were James Rea & Co.

Is Historic Corner

There is considerable history connected with the intersection of 63rd and Halsted sts., particularly the southeast corner. This corner for many years, as far back as the 70's and 80's, when 63rd and Halsted was a haymarket serving the stock yards, was the site of a saloon, which in the early days was a mecca for the haywagon drivers who came up Halsted st. from the wide fields extending as far south as Chicago Heights. At this time Halsted st. was eight feet wider than it now is.

A man named Seyfarth operated a saloon in the 80's and was followed by Carberry Bros., who kept it until prohibition, when the United Cigar Stores located there.

In the early days, the corner was valued at but $50 per front foot, whereas the latest lease makes the valuation $49,500 per front foot. Mr. Langer, before Mr. Gaynor came along with his offer, gave a friend a chance to buy the property for $90,000, on terms of $10,000 down and the balance in any length of time desired.

Another Halsted-63rd Deal

Just across the street from the property leased by Mr. Voight, at 6308-10 Halsted, is a 53.11x117.74 foot lot, on which a 99-year leasehold is to be sold to the highest bidder at the judicial salesrooms of the Chicago Real Estate board, 57 W. Monroe st, next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock

This lot, improved with a four-story building, now housing the Phillips Furniture Co., is owned by Henry Friend, downtown cloak and suit man. The leasehold is in possession of the William J. Kennedy Building corporation, in which William J. Kennedy, operator of a restaurant three doors south of Mr. Voight's Halsted st. lunchroom, is prominent, and calls for an annual ground rental of $15,000

This figure, according to one business man of the neighborhood, is about on a par with the rental being paid by Mr. Voight, except that there is a $50,000 mortgage on the Kennedy leasehold, which was negotiated four years ago.

This property was formerly owned by the L. R Steel Co., now out of business in Chicago and, before the Phillips Furniture Co. was located there, was occupied by the Royal Furniture Co, which the Phillips firm bought out.

The Ash Realty Auctioneers, Inc., 220 State st is in charge of the auction arrangements.

PARK FREQUENTERS TO VOTE NOVEMBER 4

Voting booths will be opened at Ogden Park Tuesday, November 4. The balloting, however, will differ from that in the national election of the same day in that no age limit is set for the franchise. Among the matters to be decided, will be the question from what park activities most benefit is derived.

The vote will serve a double purpose Results obtained will, of course, be of great value to the park's director and instructors in planning its future program. At the same time boys and girls will be given a valuable training in citizenship through their voting experience.

"Just now," declared Director Daniel Russell when he announced the forthcoming vote, "there is a great cry against slackers among the voters of our country I am not expecting a single slacker among the boys and girls who come to the park to take part in activities, but believe they will all appear on election day to cast their ballots."

SOCIAL AND ORGANIZATION ACTIVITIES

Third District Conference

Mrs. George Thomas Palmer, president of the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs, gave the main address Wednesday afternoon at the conference of the Third Congressional district of the state federation. Members of the Gresham Woman's club were hostesses to the visiting delegations at the Seventh Presbyterian church, 86th pl. and Sangamon st., while their president, Mrs. Wallace B. Combs, also head of the district, was chairman.

As representative of 70,000 women in the Illinois federation, Mrs. Palmer brought a message of service to the local conference. She urged the women to awake from indifference, and not only perform their citizen's duties at the polls but endeavor to make good citizens of the aliens who are in the country. "Nothing," she said, "is quite so important for women to do as to promote law enforcement. After election the American home is to be the topic of most serious consideration by club leaders. It is in the home that law enforcement should start."

She expressed herself as opposed to any movement to abolish capital punishment in Illinois, and as an enemy of "peace at any price" agitation. Some concerted action against the increase in obscene literature was another project suggested by the state president as a necessity. Club homes as the ideal meeting place were recommended highly, Mrs. Palmer advising the women against spending all their efforts in community betterment to the neglect of their own club welfare. In conclusion, however, she urged active participation in civic affairs.

"Do not be club women only at the weekly or monthly meetings," she said. "Be club women every day, living and working for club ideals."

The meeting opened at 10 o'clock with conferences of department chairmen. Reports of officers followed Mrs. C. J. Trainor and Mrs. George Steele, 318 W. 72nd st., chairmen of the department of American citizenship in the state and district respectively, talking of their work. Mrs. Lyda Bantz, 7629 Emerald ave., district chairman of the industrial and social conditions department, introduced Mrs. H. W. Hartough, state chairman of the same work, who spoke of the accomplishments of the department in securing passage of laws for women and children. Mrs. Combs' presidential report was followed by talks by Mrs. C. G. Kindred, 324 Normal pkwy., international relations chairman, and Mrs. A. W. Augur, honorary member of the Gresham Woman's club and past president of the district.

Mrs. J. Dubach, 861 W. 86th pl., had charge of the luncheon which was served the guests.

"Biennial briefs" took up a considerable part of the afternoon, Mrs. Charles Woodman, who was transportation agent for the 168 Illinois women who attended the Los Angeles convention in June, being the first speaker. Mrs. A. R. E. Wyant, 7106 Princeton ave., chairman of the Philharmonic work and president of the Englewood Woman's club, Mrs. Martin Strand, luncheon chairman; Mrs. Thomas Bishop, 7656 Eggleston ave., district treasurer; Mrs. J. Maurer, president Second district; and Mrs. M. Fowler, president Sixth district, talked of their impressions of the convention.

A review of the life and interests of the new national president, Mrs. John D. Sherman, Estes Park, Colo., was given by Mrs. Samuel Snow, president of the Sixth district. Twenty years' service in federation work, the speaker declared, had been crowned by Mrs. Sherman's election to the highest office among women of America. Her aim is "No illiteracy in the United States in 1930." The book on parliamentary law commonly used by clubs was written by Mrs. Sherman during her term as chairman of the parliamentary law department of the general federation.

"Work in the better homes and national parks divisions has also had a marked influence on our new leader's interests," said Mrs. Snow. The federation president is a native of New York but has spent most of her life in the west. She is a member of the Chicago Woman's club.

Mrs. Dixon Keyser sang a group of selections including "Coming Home" by Willoughby and "To a Rose" by McFadden. Mrs. Strand, district chairman of the endowment fund, introduced Mrs. Samuel Hoover, state chairman, who made a plea for additional pledges to raise the fund with which to further club activities. Dr. Stone Addresses Woman

"Selling America" was the subject of a talk given Thursday afternoon before the South Side Catholic Woman's club at the Knights of Clumbus club house, 6323 Harvard ave., by Dr. Lee Alexander Stone, physician and author. Holding the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the military intelligence department of the Officers' Reserve corps, he was a pioneer in the movement for social hygiene during the world war period. His message was based on his experiences both in this work and as professor of public health and medical sociology at the General Medical college, and as chief of the bureau of hospitals, social and industrial hygiene for the city of Chicago.

"I am convinced that our country is in danger from the Reds," he declared. "Chicago is the headquarters in the United States for the communistic party. People will say there is no cause for worry about these radicals in our country. But such statements are only another example of the vicious policy of unpreparedness practiced before we entered the war. Russia is ruled by 410,000 Reds, but communists in America number millions."

He objected to the proposed twentieth amendment on child labor as being a practical nationalization of the child. Regard for the constitution, he declared to be a necessity for prosperity and good government, even congressmen being lax in their knowledge of the contents of our nation's laws.

A talk on the Red Cross instruction in "Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick," was given in an effort to interest more women in the class to meet Monday afternoons throughout the winter.

Plans for the club's annual card party for the benefit of Misericordia hospital have been completed. The affair will be given Wednesday evening, October 22, at the Chicago Beach hotel.

Mrs. C. J. Reilly, the president, reported that seven members of the organization had been guests the preceding Thursday of the directors of St. Catherine's club, with which they have been affiliated.

Normal College President Speaker

Dr. William B. Owen, president of the Chicago Normal college, will speak Wednesday morning to the members of the Ridge Woman's club at the Ridge Park Field house. "Why Junior High Scholos Are Needed in Chicago" will be his subject. In the afternoon W. M. Leiserson, chairman of the board of arbitration of the men's clothing industry, will speak on "How a Great Industry Settles Its Labor Disputes."

Last week's morning session was devoted to a discussion of the "Life and Letters of Emily Dickenson," led by Miss Alice Barnard, 1924 W. 103rd st. A musical program by Miss Kathryn Brown, soprano, was the afternoon attracton.

Mrs. Tessmer Bunco Club Hostess

Mrs. Ethel Tessmer, 7644 Normal ave., entertained her Jolly Twelve Bunco club Wednesday, October 15. A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock after which bunco was played. First prize was awarded to Mrs. Annie Manowsky, 6723 Green st., second to Mrs. Nellie Phelps, 7644 Normal ave., and third to Mrs. Hattie Wilson, 1438 W. 105th st. Consolation prize went to the hostess.

L. Mott, University of Chicago, will speak on "The President's job." At the close of Dr. Mott's talk, a ten-minute period will be allotted for questions and the discussion of timely problems.

Mrs. J. J. Snyder will read a paper on the "Liquor Question in Foreign Countries" and Mrs. Otto A. Sjostrom will present the question of "International Relations."

The program chairman, Mrs. Floyd D. O'Brien, will have charge of the afternoon program and will present Mrs. Marion Waterfall, contralto, and Paul McClure Hinkhouse, who will speak on "Cairo, Where the Centuries Meet."

The tour for Friday, October 31, to the shops on the Italian court, will be conducted by Mrs. Leonard C. Reid, chairman of the art department, who will announce details at the club meetings.

Committees Report at Meeting

Reports from members of the different committees in charge of the "Hong Kong" party to be given Saturday evening, November 8, at the South Side Masonic temple by the Evangelical Lutheran Young People's league of Chicago, were made at Friday evening's meeting held at the home of Miss Frances Holtz, 7328 Union ave., last year's vice president. Donations were reported and games to be played were discussed and chosen. The committees will again report at the next meeting Friday evening, October 24, at the home of William W. Wurm, 7700 Paulina st.

Those in attendance were: Clarence Dettmann, Herman Schultz, Herbert Sielaff, Ernie Lawrence, William W. Wurm, the Misses Frances Holtz, Erna Wurm, Olga Pleger, Clara Peterson, Clara Tirmenstein, Mae Elser, Dorothy Wettstaedt, Esther Holtz, and Gladys Funk. Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

Miss McDowell Speaks of Welfare

A plea for support of her project when it comes before the council's finance committee was the main theme of Miss Mary McDowell, welfare commissioner, in speakng Friday afternoon to the members of the 17th ward branch of the Woman's City club. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Taylor, 7206 Lafayette ave.

"The welfare department's work," the speaker explained, "is divided into the employment and social surveys bureaus. In the first come municipal lodgings." These she admitted were her pet project.

"The three story building used for the purpose houses 250 men when filled to capacity, accommodating only a small part of the 30,000 to 50,000 homeless men who are in Chicago each year. One-half of this number are casual laborers who cut our ice, work on our freighters, harvest our wheat. Maybe we don't like them, but we depend upon their work. The other half are handicapped in some way."

After opening the lodging last January with money provided by Mayor Dever's emergency fund, cots were purchased and blankets borrowed from the Red Cross to give the men comfortable quarters. During the three months of its operation, Mrs. McDowell made the discovery that 65 per cent of the men were old or should have been in institutions for other reasons. Most of them were American born and legal citizens of Chicago, she found. Beginning her work of classifying the inmates, she sent six to insane asylums, the aged, blind, or deaf to institutions; and several runaway boys to their homes.

Even since the sleeping quarters were closed the men's service station, where they may take a shower bath and wash their underwear, has been kept open, often being patronized by as many as 200 men daily.

Dr. Sarah Foster, president of the 16th ward branch, invited the 17th ward women to join in holding a meeting Wednesday, October 29, when party committee women would be asked to speak. This session was later postponed until after election day.

Mrs. John A. Jacobs, the new chairman of the 17th ward, urged the members to act on at least one of the various committees of the Woman's City club. Miss Marie Andresen, assistant city attorney, will be the speaker at the club's next meeting, November 21, at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Guertin, 6658 Harvard ave.

COUNTY CLERK "BOB" SWEITZER URGES ERASURE OF PARTY LINES IN LOCAL POLLING

"Deneen Day," Thursday's session of the Englewood Business Men's association is scheduled to be Charles S. Deneen, Republican candidate for the United States senate, will speak, as will also Judge George A. Curran. The entertainment features will consist of numbers by nine members of the "Stepping Out" company from the National theater.

Col. A. A. Sprague, Democratic nominee for the senate, scheduled as last week's speaker, failed to make his appearance and his place on the program was taken by County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer, who urged the necessity for the universal exercise of suffrage privileges and the need for erasure of party lines in local elections.

"If you haven't perfect administration of your own affairs," said he, "it is your own fault. The trouble with local elections is that we don't get far enough away from political party appellations. The quality of the individual candidates should be the determining factor.

"But in national elections we should vote for the candidate of that party whose platform offers the best general constructive policy. And elections over, our president should not be a party president, but president of the entire United States.

"The citizenship should give him the full measure of support, and do all in its power to preserve our country's leading place among the nations of the world." Mr. Sweitzer talked at length regarding Col. Sprague's qualifications for the position he seeks.

C. O. Rosen, former association president, presided at the meeting.

It Takes 40 Years to Build a Cemetery
Chicago's Most Beautiful Cemetery
Mount Greenwood
Is 45 Years Old
No commissions on lot sales paid to any person.
Real perpetual care—an honest contract—care funds in trust company's hands.
A properly developed cemetery—not a paper cemetery. Seven and one-half miles of sewers and drains prevent any possibility of wet graves or overflowed lots; 4¾ miles of water pipe connecting with the Chicago water system. Every lot in the cemetery properly watered during the dry season.
Lot prices moderate. Should be investigated by everyone wishing to secure a cemetery lot. Such investigation may save the mistake of paying as much or more for an unfinished lot in an undeveloped cemetery as would secure a lot in beautiful Mount Greenwood.

Yet I doubt not through the ages one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns.
—Tennyson.

The fact that the automobile death toll keeps mounting—544 dead in Cook county since the first of the year—indicates either that Chief Collins is not getting the co-operation that he should have from speed court judges or that he has erred in his belief that arrest of speeders would abate the ghastly death rate. One thing is certain. We must have a better understanding, not only between the police and judiciary, but with the public as well, as to just what characterizes driving that is dangerous to the public welfare. The present law makes subject to fine driving at rates higher than 10, 15, 20 and 35 miles in sections ranging from congested business districts to the open country only when faster driving can be deemed excessive or dangerous. This leaves, evidently enough, much to the discretion of the judge. If the law does not accomplish its end, then it should be changed. Chicago needs to make a thoro study of her traffic problems, perhaps through a commission, as suggested by Judge John F. O'Connell in a recent talk before the Englewood Business Men's association, that a remedial plan may be formed. This done, all our public servants as well as we, the people, must unite in an effort to secure effects and reduce life destruction.

UNITED EFFORT FOR MORE SAFETY

Regulation and restriction of drivers is necessary, and Chief Collins' efforts to improve the frightful condition should not be scoffed at. But a more comprehensive campaign must be inaugurated.

Not only must we have agreement among officials regarding means to secure the desired end, but public sentiment must wholeheartedly back the effort—sentiment of motorist and pedestrian, old and young. Of no little value in the latter direction should be the "Child Safety Week" to be observed under the auspices of the Illinois Automobile club and the National Motorists' association for the week beginning November 22.

Coroner's statistics indicate that more than half of the total killed in Cook county by automobiles are children. Not a few have been responsible for their own destruction, darting into the pathway of motorists in a way that made stopping impossible.

On the theory that children will not heed lectures but, because they are essentially visual minded, may be impressed by pictures, one million booklets bearing pictures of children doing hazardous things, with duplicate prints for coloring by the child, will be distributed. The effect on the child mind of the picture and its accompanying warning, together with the attention of parents that should be focused on the problem when Johnny or Mary brings his or her booklet home for inspection, should materially reduce children's carelessness.

"Dad's Day." Such was the designation of Sunday. Inaugurated by the Lions club, the observance of the day has come to be an annual occasion. Not yet, and perhaps never, so widely celebrated as Mother's Day, it is based on a worthy motive. In most families "Dad" is a personage of greater importance than a mere provider. Perhaps, if his task as such has been so great he had not time to be the pal and comrade he should have been, he may be even more deserving of one day of recognition. Take time to get acquainted with Dad. Show him you appreciate what he has done for you and the way may be opened for a better understanding of each other.

FOR "DAD"

Perhaps those who have always profited by father's companionship and advice need not be urged to show their appreciation. Yet we are all neglectful and even Dad may be forgotten at times. If you are away from home write him a letter that will let him know you are still proud of your relationship to him. Or, if you are still in the home, make opportunity to show him your love for him is there. Spend an evening at home, talking politics, sports or business with father. You'll be surprised how much information you can get from the older man's experience.

Churches and schools have made a good start in the way of extending the observance nationally. But, like all deeds of love, the celebration should begin in the home. Let's make Dad's Day not a twenty-four hour proposition, nor even a week's celebration, but a year around effort to make father happy.

Ever stop to figure out just why some people always seem to accomplish their purposes, while others, often more richly endowed with natural capabilities, may have any number of aspirations and worthy intentions, but live through months and years and a whole lifetime without those A. and W. J.'s producing any results? The latter are always victims of circumstances. They may lead active, useful and interesting lives—if the conditions in which they chance to find themselves force them to it. More likely they are dawdlers and incompetents, misfits who rail at fate or, perhaps worse, resign themselves to their sphere, no matter how little they like it, and blame the social order or some individual or set of individuals in it. The first class are masters of their own destinies. They look ahead, set a goal for themselves, their businesses, their families, or what not, and reach it.

DREAMER OR DOER

How? They do not procrastinate. Procrastination is "the thief of time." It is more than that. It steals will power and self-control. It saps energy and deadens ambition and ideals. You have heard of the broad and straight road that they say is paved with good intentions—that have been unfruitful. However that may be, certain it is that the man who aspires and aspires but never does, is building for himself a nice little hades in his own mind.

Perhaps you think we are headed toward the enumeration of the hundred and one public improvements Southtown has allowed to be victimized by procrastinators. Not this time. In a community of men and women who do things, community accomplishment will be taken care of. We're thinking of the many who, in their own personal affairs, their work or their play, are dogged by that sense of never finding time for things.

The remedy is simple. The first step is the only hard one. Pick out the hardest job you have had in mind to do for months—and do it! Perhaps it is only a good book you have been meaning to read. Perhaps it is some educational work you had been counting on taking to fit yourself for a better position. It may be something bigger. Choose the most important and tackle it. Then when that is done, go after another. You'll be surprised at how quickly you find yourself in the "doer" class.

SEEKS IDENTITY OF REFUSE DUMPERS

Who are the persons who use the south side of 77th st. from Vincennes ave. to State st., as the repository for refuse? Are they too ashamed to ask the city garbage men to haul away the bushels of frozen apples, the dead cats and dogs, and other disease breeding items dumped on that vacant land? Others are not above throwing from their machines similar trash as they ride along the unpaved stretch of street on Wentworth ave., from 76th to 77th sts.

We are unable to post a guard at those places to report the citizens employing these practices for the disposal of rubbish, but the East Hamilton Home Owners' association will appreciate having observers furnish to the organization the names or descriptions of contributors to the six-foot high dump of garbage and filth at 77th st. and Vincennes ave.

GEORGE KUTTERUF,
Association Director.

WANT "CAR WATCHERS" QUELLED

It has been my experience when attending large public gatherings in any part of Southtown that the problem of the motorist is not so much where to park his car as how to escape paying hoodlums who appoint themselves as "car watchers" to prevent his tools and accessories being stolen. Around every ball park on Sunday scores of boys ranging all the way from 10 to 20 years of age are found, all shouting "Watch your car, mister?"

They jump on the running board of your car, as many as four of them, and all demand that they be given the privilege of "watching" the machine. They don't intend to watch the car and what good would it do if a thief wanted to take it? To them your answer telling them to watch the car means only that you will give them a tip and that the machine should not be a victim of petty thefts. If you tell them that their services are not necessary they invariably mutter some threat about finding your tires flat when you return. This threat is seldom carried out, but usually you will find that anything left lying in the car is missing.

This is just a cheap form of blackmail which should be stopped. Loss of articles from the car is usually so small that it does not warrant the police taking action but nevertheless it is troublesome. It is for the parents of the boys to take a hand in the matter and if all motorists would refuse to give the boys tips the practice would soon stop.

A MOTORIST.

VOCATIONAL LEAGUE SECRETARY SPEAKS

Miss Clara Sommerville, secretary of the Vocational league, spoke Tuesday afternoon at the Parent-Teacher association meeting held at the Lewis-Champlin school, 320 Englewood ave. An original playlet, "The Fire Scene on Trial," staged by pupils of rooms 305 and 306 and an original song by children of room 304 were given under the direction of Miss Virginia Robinson, Mrs. Jennie Cadwell, and Mrs. R. Watts.

Committee chairmen recently appointed by the president, Mrs. Morris Carothers, 511 W. 62nd st., who reported on their departments were: Mrs. Guy U. Smith, welfare; Mrs. C. E. Russell, social; Mrs. T. F. Christenson, milk; Mrs. Harry Johnson, school decorations; Mrs. Robert Beaumont, building and grounds; Mrs. Robert McKinlay, auditor; and Mrs. Stanley Webster, membership. Enrollment of 700 was announced by the latter.

The welfare department will benefit from the sale of newspapers and magazines which will be collected by the association Wednesday, November 5. Children of the school will be asked to take the old papers to the school yard where a group of mothers will direct their sale to a junk dealer.

MEN'S ASSOCIATION OF CHURCH BRINGS PROMINENT SPEAKERS

ARRANGE EVENING PROGRAMS AT ENGLEWOOD PRESBYTERIAN; INCLUDE MUSIC

Addresses by prominent speakers together with music by Chicago artists provide programs of great interest and appeal at the Sunday evening services of the Englewood Presbyterian church. The services are under the auspices of the Men's association, organized one year ago, with Kneeland Ball, 6408 Harvard ave., as president. The club, numbering about 100, is a revival of a similar organization formed ten years ago by members of the Pilgrim Congregational church and the Presbyterian congregation.

Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, formerly president of Northwestern university and at present pastor at Detroit, Mich., will speak next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, taking "Builders" as his subject. Charles C. Morrison, editor of the Christian Century, Dr. C. Wallace Petty of Pittsburgh, Pa., Professor Shailer Matthews, Chief Justice Harry Olson, Jane Addams, Dr. John Timothy Stone and Dr. Fred F. Sherman are some of the people who will appear at the church during the year. Dr. Edward A. Starner, professor at the University of Iowa, opened this season's series, having been invited to do so because of the interest manifested in his talk of last year.

Special music for the evening worship is arranged by the organist, George Kurtz, who has been made music director since the death of Glenwood Preble, who held that position thirty years. William A. Morse, bass soloist from the Lake Forest Presbyterian church, will sing next Sunday evening. The church choir regularly has a part in the evening services also.

A program consisting entirely of music will be given Sunday evening, November 30, while the "Messiah," will be sung early in January and special Passion music during Lent.

THEORY THAT AGE INCREASES VIOLIN'S VALUE IS EXPLODED

By W. M. MASON

SO MUCH has been said of late years about the value of old violins, that a few outstanding facts may be of value to the person contemplating purchase.

The three outstanding makers of old violins were Guarnerius, Amati, and Stradivarius. They did not limit themselves to violins alone but made violins, cellos and double bass viols. They lived in the sixteenth century in the Italian city of Cremona.

They worked largely alone, except for an apprentice or two. Their work was done by hand. They were uneducated in the modern sense and knew nothing of the physics of sound. Acoustics as a science was unknown. All of their instruments are on record with their minutest details and measurements. No two are the same (which would indicate that all were guesswork).

Perhaps not more than one out of a hundred so called "old violins" is genuine.

Very little of the original wood, parts, varnish or workmanship of a violin one hundred years old is left in the instrument today.

The "mellow with age" theory of musical instruments has long been exploded.

Any man made instrument wears out in time and loses in value.

Violin tone is more in the player than in the violin.

Most of the great violin artists have several instruments and play on those of later make.

The modern violin is a scientifically made instrument. It is made following thousands of experimental tests with various woods and materials. Its parts are worked out with mathematical accuracy. It is made by machinery.

It's true that a violin, like an automobile, plays better after it is broken in, but not after it is worn out.

Be careful when someone wants you to discard your violin for one several times its price. There is more crookedness in the violin game than there is in the manufacture of any other instrument.

The writer has had acquaintance with orchestras and violin players for many years and has heard violins costing from $25 to $2,500. When you pay above $100 for a violin you are paying for something that has no bearing on the instrument's musical value.

No doubt hundreds of young people whose parents have paid high prices for violins, will question this last statement. But let any one of them take his instrument to a dealer and try to sell it. If he gets $25 for his $200 instrument, he is lucky.

Musician on Assembly Program

Charles Isaacson of the Chicago Civic opera company will speak Tuesday morning, October 28, to pupils of the Morgan Park high school. His subject will be on some phase of music and the fine arts.

DEDICATE NEW TRINITY ORGAN

Mr. Stronach at the new Trinity console —Economist Photo

Robert Stronach, 6505 Yale ave., organist and choir director of the church, appeared in recital on the new organ just installed in the assembly room of the Trinity M. E. church, 99th and Winchester, Tuesday evening, as a feature of the week-long dedicatory services that are now being held at the church.

Among the numbers that were played by Mr. Stronach, who is a graduate of the Royal Academy of Music in London, are: Overture to "William Tell," Rossini; "Rhapsodie," Sylver; "Prelude and Fugue," by Bach; "Elegy," Massenet; and "Henry VIII Suite," German.

He was assisted on the program by Erna Urland, violinist, Marie Hedrick, Walling, soprano, and Chas. Hutzler, baritone.

Mr. Stronach is one of the best known choir directors on the south side, having been at different times in charge of the music at the Baptist, First M. E., First Presbyterian, and Emerald Avenue Presbyterian churches of Englewood, and the Crerar Presbyterian church. He is a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, but has been in this country many years.

At Trinity, Mr. Stronach will have a choir of forty voices, and a paid professional quartet. The organ dedicated Tuesday is a two manual Austin of the latest model, but a second organ of four manuals will be installed in the church auditorium when that is completed, probably within a year.

DR. R. A. WHITE WILL CONDUCT WBCN CHURCH SERVICES ON SUNDAY

NOTED LECTURER TO BROADCAST; IMPERIAL QUARTET ALSO IS BOOKED

An announcement of much more than ordinary interest to Southtown churchgoers is one issuing from Robert Northrop, director of WBCN, the new Southtown Economist radio station, to the effect that Dr. R. A. White, nationally known traveler and lecturer, will conduct a non-sectarian church service over WBCN every Sunday morning.

Dr. White is pastor of the People's Liberal church, 65th st. and Stewart ave., and is regarded highly far and wide for the strength and interest of his talks. In fact, he is nationally considered one of the leaders in his field, and Director Northrop announces his engagement with a feeling of pride. It is his belief that Dr. White's talks will almost immediately become one of the outstanding Sunday features of radio.

One of the things for which Dr. White is known in Chicago is his connection with the movement that resulted in the establishment of the Oakhaven Old People's home, a model institution located at Western ave. and 113th pl. This movement originated in Dr. White's church, his congregation proving untiring workers in putting over a campaign for funds.

A topnotch Sunday afternoon or early evening feature has also been arranged by WBCN. This is the Imperial quartet, a group of voices trained for classical singing. They will broadcast from the chapel of Lain & Son, on W. 63rd st.

AN INVITATION

Everybody who owns a radio set has at some time felt the need of technical advice. Perhaps something has gone wrong with your equipment and you are unable to locate the trouble or to adjust it if you have located it. Or mayhap you wish to know how you can get better results.

Regardless of what your problem or desire is in the way of information, the Economist will, through its new technical adviser, Walter J. McDonnell, endeavor to accommodate. All you have to do is write out your need and mail it to the Radio Editor, Southtown Economist, 728-732 W. 65th st. He will either reply through these columns (if the question and answer are of general interest) or by mail. To provide for the latter, a self-addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed with your request.

Contributions from radio fans are always welcomed by the Economist whether they be news stories, technical articles, diagrams containing something new and instructive, photographs, suggestions or criticisms. Address the Radio Editor.

QUESTION and ANSWER Department

Question—I have a single tube radio set. I receive all city stations and some outside ones the farthest of these being Dallas, Texas. Owing to the fact that Elgin, Zion, and a few others do not come in clear, I am not quite satisfied. I even have a hard time getting the call letters. Do you think an outside aerial would result in louder reception? My aerial is strung up in our attic, L-shaped.

An electric wire runs across our yard. Would it be dangerous to run an aerial across this?

R. W. MUNSTERMAN,
7712 Sangamon st.

Answer—An outside aerial, if properly constructed, is always more efficient than an inside aerial.

The electric wires running across your yard, I presume, are service feeders for your home and are not considered dangerous.

If you have room between the rear of you. home and if there is any sort of a building near the alley that an upright post can be nailed to, it would be advisable to put up an outside aerial of either one wire, 75 to 100 feet long, or two spans, 50 feet long, separated by wooden spreaders, 2½ to 3 feet long and well insulated from antenna wire.

The Ladies' Aid society will hold the annual bazaar October 15 and 16. There will be a large assortment of aprons and fancy goods. A special feature will be a chicken dinner both evenings. Strangers and visitors are welcome.

Can you suggest any other way to fasten my lead-in to the antenna wire without soldering? I have tried to solder the two together but am handicapped by lack of proper tools. A. D. K.

Answer—Take a nickel-plated binding post that has the hole through the side and put this on your aerial wire before you put it through the insulator. Then when you have your antenna pulled up tight, slide the binding post back near the insulator. Skip about two inches of insulation off of the lead-in wire and put the wire through the same hole in the binding post and tighten the set screw down. This makes a better connection than some jobs of soldering I have seen.

WBCN FEATURE ON SUNDAY MORNINGS

REV. R. A. WHITE

C. R. A. MAY DECIDE ON 2 TYPES OF MEETINGS

Whether a new policy, providing for both "member only" meetings and open sessions, is to be adopted by the Chicago Radio association is to be decided at a special meeting of the association at the home of Vice-president W. J. Haferbecker, 6912 Cornell ave., Wednesday evening of this week. The regular weekly meeting will be held as usual on Thursday night at the Ogden park fieldhouse.

Entertainment for Thursday's session will be furnished by the Rudolph C. Bryant School of Music, while the technical side of the program will be handled by Frederick W. Wills, who will lecture on acoustics and loud speaker construction; J. L. McWeeny, who will demonstrate the Sleeper Monotrol receiver; F. L. Damarin, whose offering will be a talk on the theory of radio transmission and reception, and Charles C. Trezise, an amateur, who is to tell how he received Havana, Cuba, on a one-tube, two-rotor DX receiver. The meeting will start promptly at 8 15 o'clock.

After tubes have been used a year or more, they lose they efficiency, even though they appear to light up as bright as ever. It is not the light nor the heat that makes the tube oscillate, but the negative electrons given off by the heated filament, and when this ceases to occur, the tubes are no longer of any use.

Last Monday night was silent night in Chicago. (This is sensational news, as it really was silent. The incident should not cause concern though, as it probably was merely an oversight—politicians, y'know, surely do have their hands full just before election and can't be expected to keep all their dates straight.)

However, the totally unexpected epidemic of silence did not in any way infect, affect or effect our single-circuit neighbors, who spent a merry evening finding out how many octaves they could span with one twist of the dial.

Despite the agitated condition of the poor old atmosphere, we managed to pierce the wall of wails at times and consequently gave ear to some ethereal offerings from distant stations.

Not the least of which was station OUCH at Pinchhard, Ark. Some mighty interesting singing and playing was being broadcast there by Black and Blue. The title of their first number was "The Curse of an Aching Heart." They also sang "A Skinflint You Love to Touch."

After such heartrending (yea, we might even say lard-rendering) melody, we had to turn to something a bit lighter, so we tuned in on "June Moon," which proved to be issuing from GAS, located at Sparksville, O. As we were burning to know who was doing the singing, we waited patiently until we heard the words: 'You have just listened to 'Red' Whine singing 'June Moon'. His next number will be 'Red Hot Mama (Turn Your Damper Down)'. (Aside) All right, 'Red', warm up to your work!"

Station CUSS was our next stop. Just as we settled back to hear the "Cleaner Thoughts" program they were scheduled (according to the current issue of the Morning Milk) to broadcast, we heard the following inspiring dialogue:

"Tell that guy to hold up his chinning a few minutes.. We jist blew another tube! !:!*?$-.!

"Hey, furtheluvvamike, Oscar, I got the 'mike' open—pipe down un——." Then silence, which seemed two inches thicker than usual. At this late hour we are still unable to state whether Inspector Bean has decided on hanging or the guillotine.

"Station KKK, Atlanta." That was the next kall we picked out of the ozone. How to solve flaming cross word puzzles was the subject of a lecture by Isaac Katz, a noted colored speaker from Dublin. Not being particularly robe-bust, we were unable to stand such a fiery talk and quickly hunted around for a cooler clime.

The result was that we happened onto a political speech by Alderman Izzie Wright. Hizzoner was telling the world why we should not join the League of Nations. His chief argument was that we should wait until the league becomes a Class AA circuit.

"English as She Is Gargled" was the title of a brief talk by Mrs. Hulda Snifflehelmersky from WOOF, the station on the roof of the Barker-Howell frankfurter factory. Mrs. Snifflehelmersky, who spoke through an interpreter, mentioned some of the most common mistakes us Americans make. "Frinstance," she said, "It aint correct to say, 'No, thanks, I don't want no drink.' Always say, 'Thanks, don't care if I do'."

We closed the evening with a gob of dance music from JAZ, at Ashyer, Pa., where the famous Rubber band is a regular feature. The program was, to our great relief, an elastic one and there was a lot of give and take on the side. This band always has a snap to it that all others seem to lack. We'd like to hear it playing when we take our stretching exercises by radio in the morning.

"Station S-T-A-T-I-C, located in the cellar of the Southtown Economist, signing off. It is now exactly four and one-half minutes past time to eat. Good night!"

D'FOREST HARBAUGH SUPPLIES IDEA SAID TO BRING MUCH BETTER RESULTS

By WALTER J. M'DONNELL

The writer is indebted to DeForest Harbaugh, 3506 W. 62nd st., for the following novel idea in antenna construction.

In support of his idea, Mr. Harbaugh says:

"This antenna was designed after careful research on Nicola Tesla's work on 'Inductance, Its Cause and Remedy.' The antenna from spread to spread is approximately 40 feet, and from pole to pole 48 feet. The spreaders are 3/4 inch pipe, 6 feet long. The letters "A" are insulators, twelve of which are employed. The crossovers are No. 14 rubber-covered wire, soldered to the antenna wire, as shown in figure R-8.

"The antenna should be at least 30 feet high, 10 to 12 feet above or away from any building and setting in a direction that is not due north and south, or east and west. A position of about 15 degrees off or north and south, or east and west, will be found preferable.

"The crossover wires should not be drawn too tight; it is best to cut them about 9 feet and let them loop downward.

"The lead-in wire is No 14 rubber-covered wire and should be as short as possible to the set. Flat ribbon-lengths to 10 feet long may be employed, instead of No. 14 antenna wire. The 16-strand braided wire also gives excellent results."

The letters "B" in the accompanying diagram represent the cross-over wires and the writer suggests that additional wood spreaders be put in at places marked "E" in figure R-6, as shown in figure R-7. If this is done, the cross-over wires can be put on so that one is fairly tight while the other loops below it about af out.

The letters "B," "C" and "D" represent the actual amount of wire that intercept radio signals. (Note that a lead-in is taken off of each end and joined in center.)

The theory of transposing wires is an old one and has been used by telephone and high tension power line companies for years. The purpose is to minimize induction and to prevent noise from same.

The writer would appreciate learning the results obtained from an antenna of this type by any reader who tries it out.

You never know, when you start a thing, where consequences will end. The Economist is installing a radio-cast station, designed to put Southtown "on the map." To put in foundations for the 130 foot antenna towers, extensive excavation was necessary. The sand from this, heaped on the other side of Emerald ave., provided material from which Jimmie Thompson, 718 W. 65th st., constructed an ingenious and artistic fort and battle ground that made you wonder if he couldn't have figured a handier way to cross the Rubicon than by old Caesar's clumsy bridge. WEALTH OF LOCAl. TALENT IS AVAILABLE TO DIRECTOR OF WBCN

FLOOD OF REQUESTS FOR OPPORTUNITY TO BROADCAST REACHES NORTHROP

That there is a wealth of talent in Southtown suitable for broadcasting is becoming more and more evident daily. No one knows this better than Robert ("Bob") Northrop, director of WBCN, the new Southtown Economist radio station.

Director Northrop is being besieged almost constantly by applicants for places on WBCN programs and is rapidly getting a definite line on what he will have to work with, once the station, now under construction, is fully in operation.

Singers, instrumental artists, speakers, readers, etc., are included in the long list of people requesting a chance to be "heard on the air." From this wide array, it is practically assured that the new satien will never be without a wealth of material for high class "home talent" programs.

The music schools of the south side, alone, are expected to supply a great amount of talent. Then there are the many church choirs, high school and other school musical organizations and fraternal and club quartets, bands, orchestras and choruses.

To set off the Southtown artists, some of whom will be exclusively WBCN stars, a backeround of the best known radio personalities in Chicago and vicinity will ever be available through Director Northrop's many "tie-ups" and his wide acquaintance in the music world.

There will be such orchestras as Hal Ehrig's Blue Demons, of KWY and other radio fame, and Sig Meyer's Druids from White City.

Among the vocalists will be John Stamford, Harry Davis, Art Linick, Miss "Nubs" Allen, Jimmy Eggert, Paul Lougher, Jimmy Whalen, Miss Phyllis Mitchell, Jimmy Carens, Miss June Lee and Charley Schultz. A host of others are probable additions to the roll.

Evidence that rapid progress is being made in the work of building WBCN is to be seen in the fact that two 130-foot steel towers that will support the antenna wires are now being erected. It was found necessary, because of the great weight of the towers, to sink foundations in the ground beneath the Foster & McDonnell plant, the home of the Southtown Economist and site of the new station.

DRIVES AWAY AFTER CAR INJURES WOMAN

Mrs. Johanna Koozenga, 1230 W. 73rd pl., was seriously injured Wednesday when she was struck by an automobile driven by Harold Nelson, 21 years old, 5912 Halsted st., at 72nd and Morgan sts.

Mrs. Koozenga had alighted from a car driven by Mrs. William Durkin, 1226 W. 73rd pl., and had started to cross the street when the accident occurred. Nelson failed to stop after he struck the woman but sped away. Mrs. Durkin took the number of the car and officers from the Englewood station apprehended Nelson and placed him under arrest. He confessed that he was the driver of the car.

His trial in the Grand Crossing court was continued to November 12 and he was released on bonds of $1,000.

PALMER PARK BRANCH OF B. L. A. WILL OPEN DURING PRESENT WEEK

OTHER CHICAGO BRANCHES PLANNED; BIG PROGRAM AT HAMILTON THIS WEEK

Growth of the Broadcast Listeners' association, the first of Chicago's four radio fans' bodies to be established, has made it advisable to start a branch in the Palmer park district, which includes Pullman, Roseland, West Pullman and Kensington. The Palmer park field house will be used as a meeting place. Friday of this week is tentatively set as the date of the opening session

Other B. L. A. branches probably will be established soon on the north and west sides and, in the loop, some arrangements for such branches having already been made. Des Moines, Ia., also is under consideration as a branch location.

A capacity house heard Frederick W. Will discuss loud speakers at last week's meeting of the association. A technical lecture by Mr. Romberg also was on the program, as was entertainment furnished by Axel Christensen of the Christensen Schools of Popular Music, and J. Harvey Arnold, "the gabby trickster," who convulsed and mystified with his feats of magic. The song and piano combination of Fred Agard and Bob Coughle, radio artists, likewise did much to liven up the evening.

POSTPONE EFFORT FOR NEW SEWER UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

CIVIC AND COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES CONGESTION AT PARKER

Action to obtain a satisfactory sewer for Southtown was postponed until after the November election by the Englewood Civic and Commercial association at its meeting October 15 in the George Dow store, 436 W. 63rd st., to avoid possible use of the project as a campaign issue.

Co-operation to make possible the sewer enterprise has been promised by the business organizations of Englewood, West Englewood, Central Englewood and Gresham and by the Park Manor, Chester Highlands and Hamilton Park Improvements associations, James Hughes, chairman of the sewer committee, announced. He recently solicited by letter the assistance of Southtown civic and business organizations.

Explanation of the present route and condition of the drainage system will be made to the committee at a later meeting after the coming election by a city engineer who will suggest methods of improving the present sewer.

The overcrowded condition of the Parker school was discussed informally at the session following individual complaints received by the organization. It was suggested that the pupils in the new Kersaw school building be sent to classes in the old Kersaw school to leave the former for use by Parker junior high school students, if possible. Members were of the opinion that younger pupils at Parker high school should not be transferred to Parker portables to make room for junior high school children sent there.

Reports were made of several improvements effective now for which the association has worked. Refuse has been cleaned from beneath the Harvard elevated and a "stop and go" sign has been placed at 67th st. and Wentworth ave.

George Walther, Gerald Sullivan and George Woollacott, were asked to compose resolutions expressing the sympathy of the organization for the family of I. Himmel, 6331 Normal blvd., who died October 14. Mr Himmel was one of the oldest merchants in this section and an early member of the association.

At the Theaters

STAGE SUPERSTITIONS VERY MUCH ALIVE

Frank Harcourt, star of his own show, "Red Hot," starting Sunday, October 26, at the National theater, is somewhat conscience stricken—a rather unusual thing for an actor—and the cause for his remorse came about in this way:

The other afternoon a young man whom he had noticed in conversation with two other men in front of the Herald building, New York City, left his companions and, crossing the street, said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you Frank Harcourt?"

"No," responded the comedian, "I'm his brother."

"Then I lose my bet," exclaimed the stranger, darting in front of a car and rejoining his companions.

Mr. Harcourt saw him hand one of the men a bill, and, not wishing the stranger to lose his money, he started in pursuit to explain, but there was a crush of traffic at the moment and he lost sight of them.

An hour or so later Mr. Harcourt was walking up Broadway when the same young man approached him with another man.

"Are you Frank Harcourt?" he asked.

"Yes, I am; and I want to say that when I told you a little while ago that I was not, I didn't know you had a bet on it."

"Well, I'll be blowed!" exclaimed the stranger. "That's two bets I've lost on you this afternoon. I just bet 'Jim' here, a five spot that you weren't Frank Harcourt, and I thought I had a cinch," and he turned and walked dejectedly away.

Petroleum Carbon
"The Ashless Fuel"
Few people know just what it is, and what it will do.
Those who do know about it are the ones who are using it. It is simply a matter of informing the public of the fact that there is a remarkable fuel like Petroleum Carbon.
Petroleum Carbon is by far the most efficient fuel in use today. It gives more heat value, requires less attention, is practically smokeless and contains less ash than any other solid fuel. It is a fuel that is especially adapted to domestic use and can be used in all kinds of heating plants.
Petroleum Carbon is a by-product of crude oil. It is almost pure carbon, as is shown by the following analysis:
Carbon . . . 97.74
Oil 1.75
Ash 51
Petroleum Carbon contains from 5,000 to 7,000 heat units per pound more than soft coal, and 2,000 heat units per pound more than hard coal.
Furthermore, this fuel is a fuel with absolutely
No Waste
No Soot
No Smoke
No Ash
No Dust
If we could just get you to believe this, no doubt you would become a steady user of Petroleum Carbon.
The way to find out just what it will do for you is to try it. Just buy one ton—give it a trial. You will find we have told the truth.

Improved Hyde Park Team Holds Tilden to 0-0 Tie

FUMBLE SPOILS TECH'S CHANCE FOR TOUCHDOWN

After First Quarter Game Becomes Sluggish Affair

With Hyde Park showing great improvement over its playing against Englewood the week before, Tilden was held to a scoreless tie by the Stony Island ave. eleven at White City park Saturday.

The game was a sluggish affair after the first quarter, due, probably, to the fact that the day was extremely warm for football. Tilden started off with a rush and shortly after the opening kickoff the Techs smashed their way down to the eight yard line. A penalty for holding aided Coach Berger's eleven to reach this advantageous position and from the ease with which they were tearing through the Hyde Park's line it looked as if they would count, but here a fumble, recovered by Hyde Park, spoiled their chances.

Tilden's warriors had another chance later in the fray, when they pushed Hyde Park back to the thirty-five yard line. From a point forty-five yards from the goal posts Lutz attempted a drop kick, only to miss by inches.

Hyde Park showed improvement in its defensive game and continually stopped the Techs in their tracks. Tilden's line was just as good and the Yellow Jackets' goal was never endangered.

The smooth working aerial attack That both teams are capable of was not exhibited much and most of the forwards that were tried were not completed. Hyde Park did most of the overhead work in the early stages of the combat, but after Geyers intercepted three of these passes they stopped this kind of play

In the closing period Tilden was in possession of the ball in midfield and continued to smash against the Hyde Park forward wall without gaining an inch. It was here that the completion of some forwards would have put Tilden in position to score but, apparently discouraged by the lack of success in previous attempts in open work, the Techs continued to try line plunges.

Carney was the most consistent ground gainer for Tilden, while Geyer led the defensive work by repeatedly throwing the Hyde Park backs for losses. Borrelli led Hyde Park's offensive.

TOKIOS BREAK THREE YEAR RECORD OF WINS HELD BY LOCAL TEAM

FUMBLES CAUSE LOSS OF MIDWEST LEAGUE TILT BY 12-0 COUNT SUNDAY

A three year record of victories held by the Young People's club of Englewood, was broken Sunday at Normal park in a Midwest league tilt by the Tokios. The final count was 12 to 0

The Tokios held an upper hand throughout the first half mainly because the club team forgot how to hold the ball. Fumbles twice put the oval in scoring position for the Tokios, Dillion scored the first touchdown in the second quarter when the Tokios recovered a club fumble on the club ten yard line. Four plays carried it over.

The second touchdown was made in the second quarter, fourteen seconds before the whistle blew for the half. A thirty yard pass from Waters to Dillion allowed the Tokios to register Burns carried the ball over. Kicks for the extra point were both blocked.

An advantage was held by the club throughout the second session and only bad football caused the ball to be lost on the four yard line when a forward pass was grounded.

Out of the Rough

By Fred S. Clisbee

TOPPING

The topped shot is probably the most unsatisfactory one a golfer can make, especially when the club head only touches the upper part of the ball and barely rolls it off the teeing ground. This is an absolute loss in distance for the stroke played and generally puts you in a frame of mind that causes another bad shot before you recover from the effect.

There are two classes of topped shots, the one I have just described and the one in which the club head seems to meet the ball more squarely but scoots along the ground. It has considerable roll and if you are playing on a course with the grass short in front of the tee it will go some distance, still it never gets the rise of a good shot.

Of the two, the first mentioned is the best one to have in spite of the added distance the second gives you. It indicates the development of a topped swing which brings the club head up at the point of impact with the ball instead of through low on the line of flight. A player having this sort of swing is an inveterate topper and finds correction difficult It calls for the assistance of an instructor in most cases to obtain satisfactory results.

On the other hand, the first is easy to correct, the fault being a minor one. The swing is generally true and free with just a slight misdirection on the part of the player which prevents obtaining the maximum results. If you are in this class of toppers the fault lies in the body action rather than the arm swing. Check this action up and you will find in carrying the club back in the upper part of the arch you straighten your body position of the address. Therefore, when the swing is made to the ball from the altered position, you are that much short of connecting with it squarely. Your body is curved on the address and that curve is maintained, if not you will find the right hip socket has straightened at the top of the back swing and come out towards the ball. Keep the kink, or bend, in the hips.

The Midwestern Officials association will hold a basketball meeting at Hamilton park Thursday evening. The rules of the game will be discussed and all coaches, managers of teams and players are invited to attend. I. P. Craigone, one of the leading officials in the middle west, is scheduled to talk.

The Job of Being A Dad

By FRANK H. CHELEY
President Father and Son League of America

WHAT GOOD IS A GANG?

A boy without a gang is like a dog without a bone. He has been robbed of his heritage. We should often remind ourselves that gang life is where a boy learns to become a man. It is his school of democracy. His first lessons in fair play and sacrifice are brought to him there, and that in itself is no small contribution. The gang is the grindstone that polishes precious stones—or ruins them completely. The results are up to you.

Speaking of those pockets and what they contained once more, when one mother discovered that her boy had suddenly come into full possession of a startling array of undesirable and distorted facts upon a certain forbidden subject, facts that had come to him by word-of-mouth through his gang, she suddenly put her foot down with considerable emphasis and said, "My boy, no more of that gang for you. It is utterly vile and bad and is no place for 'my little man,'" and in that instance she seriously erred. First, because no boy gang is ever totally bad; and, second, because she could no more succeed in keeping her boy from that gang—or another just like it—than fly, unless she put the boy into solitary confinement and deliberately set about it to make of him a mollycoddle. Heaven save a boy from such fate! Neuter gender is bad enough at any time, but in a boy it is well-nigh intolerable.

Beyond a doubt, there is a great mass of information handed down from boy to boy, and from gang to gang, good, bad and indifferent. It has ever been so, and will continue to be true as long as time. Since the time of the first gang there has developed a freemasonry of boyhood, and it is kept alive through the medium of the gang by passing it from one to another.

Take for instance, that "lucky topaz," that was in those trouser pockets, or it may have been a "three-cent piece" or a "rabbit's foot" or a carefully pressed "four-leaf clover" or a lucky marble; the possession of any of which merely goes to show that the boy is a real boy and that he is rapidly learning that vast number of things that boys somehow come to know and to speculate about. To laugh at such notions and to scoff at their secret magic, or to suppress such secret information, is to trample on sacred ground—and uselessly at that, for such notions are but a small part of the greater collection of such ideas and supposed facts that have been handed down from real boy to real boy since time began and belong to the same category as the firm belief that a snake's tail does not die until sundown, or that when a measuring worm crawls over you, you are destined to have a new suit of clothes, or that the handling of toads is sure to result in warts all over your hands in no time.

The point, however, is not that the boy carries a "lucky topaz" and puts great store by the magic power of it, but that he is a real boy, a qualified member, if you please, and that he is coming into rapid possession of his full heritage of such ancient notions and customs from the gang Now, wise parents know that there is much that is good and much that is bad in such hand-me-down information, and so take pains to refresh their memories of what came to them by this selfsame process, and set about it to rectify the mistaken or outgrown ideas without openly antagonizing them, for unfortunately, as it often is, there is many a boy who will persist in accepting the word and tradition of his chosen gang on such taboo subjects much sooner than he will that of a parent.

Do not prohibit gang life, but if there is a "lucky topaz" or its equivalent in your son's pocket, make certain that you, as an adult and a father, are discharging your whole responsibility to that boy's gang by helping them as individuals to see straight and think straight. All it takes is a sympathetic appreciation, wise direction, and to keep yourself worthy of confidence.

POOR PUNT CAUSES MOHAWKS'S UPSET, 7-0

Failure to get off a punt properly cost the Mohawk A. C. its game with the Drexel Maroons by a 7 to 0 score of the winner's field, 44th st. and Cottage Grove ave., Sunday.

The Maroons scored early in the second quarter. The Mohawks got the ball close to their own goal line and attempted to punt out of danger. The kicker was hurried and he sent the ball sailing almost straight up into the air. It landed on the five-yard line and Rader scored for the Maroons on the second down, breaking through the Mohawks' line.

Touchdown—Rader. Point after touchdown—Lunkson.

SECOND VICTORY GIVES PURPLE LEAGUE LEAD

Harrison's Poor Handling of Punts Helps Purple to 24-0 Win

Harrison was unable to keep up the fast pace necessary to hold Englewood in the second game of the high school league at White City Saturday and the Purple emerged victorious by a 24 to 0 count. The victory put Englewood in the lead of the prep race for all other games in the south section resulted in tie.

The west siders showed flashes of brilliant playing and with Sullivan carrying the ball they repeatedly tore through Englewood's line for lengthy gains. They were unable to gain consistently, however, and the Purple was usually able to stop their marches before they threatened to score.

Harrison had apparently been coached to let the punts bounce for every kick was allowed to hit the ground before it was picked up and twice fumbles resulting from this type of play gave Englewood an advantage.

Score In Every Quarter

Englewood scored in all four quarters but near the end of the game the play slowed up considerable and players on both teams appeared greatly fatigued. Harrison players seemed most effected by the strenuous play and the weather that was too warm for football. In the closing sessions it was all they could do to keep Englewood from gaining at will.

Coach Palmer's machine got in a position to score at the end of the first quarter as a result of Harrison's weakness in handling punts. Englewood punted to the forty-yard line and Vojacek fumbled the ball as it bounced low. Schoenstadt tore in to recover the pigskin.

Then Colin, Yanke Singer and Richardson began to find holes in Harrson's forward wall and all went through for gains After four first downs Colin crashed across. Erudley's kick for the extra point hit the cross bar.

March Down Field

From their own thirty-five yard the Purple gridders began a march down the field in the second quarter that ended in a touchdown. Verdell's long gains on end around plays, and a pass from Richardson to Singer preceded Colin's plunge over the goal line.

Recovering a punt behind his own goal line, Sullivan was thrown for a touchback just before the quarter ended.

A second exhibition of the fallacy of Harrison's method of receiving kicks was shown when the kickoff from Englewood was fumbled at the start of the second half. Sanchez recovered the oval and Englewood marched steadily goalward Richardson scored this time.

Snider made the last touchdown near the close of the combat after the Purple had gained the ball in Harrison's territory by the recovery of a fumble.

ST. PROCOPIUS TRIMS LIGHTER SPARKLERS TO TUNE OF 6 TO 0

COACH COSTIGAN USES 23 MEN IN VAIN EFFORT TO HOLD PAROCHIALS

Sparkler A. C. gridders traveled to Lisle, Ill., Sunday to play the St. Procopius college and met defeat by a score of 6 to 0. The college line averaged 190 pounds and the backfield 175 pounds compared to the 140-pound line and the 130-pound backfield of the Sparklers.

The line smashing tactics by their heavier foes resulted in injuries to English Fitzgerald and Captain Tom Kehoe of the Sparklers and it is probable that both will be kept out of play for the remainder of the season.

A good defensive game was played by the visitors but a fumble in the third quarter near their own goal line spoiled the chances of holding St. Procopius scoreless. Coach Jerry Costigan sent twenty-three men into the lineup in his futile attempt to hold the parochials.

PARKER WINS FROM MORGAN BY 8-0 SCORE

Penalties Keep Winners from Rolling Up Higher Count

Parker continued to set the pace in the "B" division of the high school race Saturday when the Green and White invaded Morgan Park and trimmed the home squad by an 8 to 0 count.

After the first quarter when Morgan Park missed its only chance to score, Parker held an advantage. Coach Wasserman's boys used a forward passing attack to a good advantage and it was an overhead toss that gave Morgan a chance at a field goal in the opening session. Twice penalties turned Parker back when Morgan's line was threatened.

Parker kicked off at the start of the game and on the first down Morgan completed a long pass from Hoffman to Barnes that brought the ball to midfield. Morgan Park then made two successive first downs and the ball was advanced to Parker's twenty-five yard line. The Green and White line held firm and Morgan tried a drop kick but the ball went astray.

Frary got away for runs of twenty and thirty-five yards at the beginning of the second period and then Gustavel smashed through the line, bringing the ball twelve yards from the defending team's goal. A penalty for holding returned the ball to about the thirty yard marker and the chance to score was lost.

At the beginning of the second half Parker kicked to Morgan Park. Parker held and Morgan punted to midfield. Winer brought the ball back to the thirty yard line and then a long pass from Frary to Lutz put Parker five yards from the goal. Another penalty of five yards made it impossible to Parker to make yardage and Morgan got the pigskin. Morgan's punt was blocked and the ball rolled behind the line for a safety. Morgan Park scrimmaged from the thirty yard line but was unable to make yardage and were forced to punt. Winer brought the ball back to midfield and then Parker completed two passes from Frary to Enos and Lutz to gain a total of thirty-five yards and get within fifteen yards of Morgan's goal posts. Continued line smashes by Gustavel and Frary worked the oval to the two yard marker and from this point Gustavel plunged across. Erickson missed the goal and shortly afterward the final whistle blew.

PARKER TEAM WILL TRAVEL TO OTTAWA

Coach Nate Wasserman will take his Parker high school eleven to Ottawa, Ill., Saturday to meet the prep squad of that city. The league schedule leaves an open date for the Green and White gridders, who are now leading the "B" division race and appear as the most formidable contenders for honors in the small schools' circuit.

The trip will be made in automobiles, leaving Saturday morning, and twenty-four players will be taken.

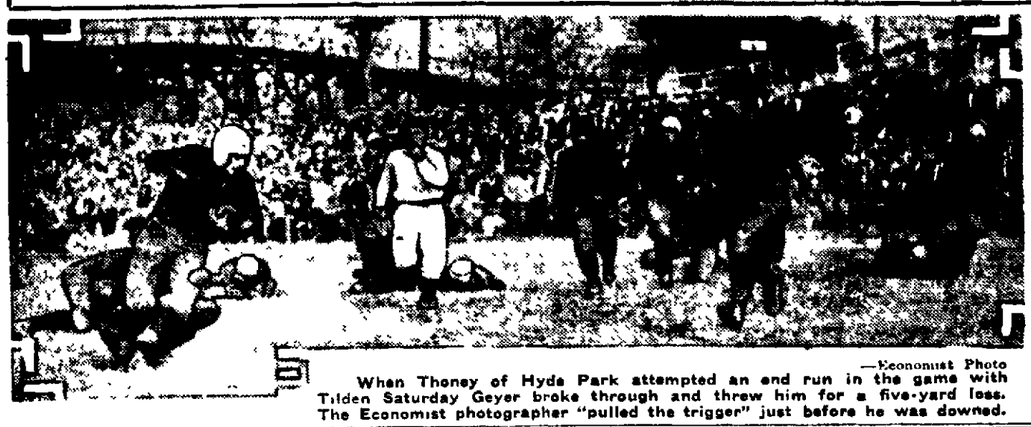
Hyde Park Back Thrown For Loss



—Economist Photo

When Thoney of Hyde Park attempted an end run in the game with Tilden Saturday Geyer broke through and threw him for a five-yard loss. The Economist photographer "pulled the trigger" just before he was downed.

PREPS WILL TRY TO AVENGE TIES AND DEFEATS

Two Scoreless Games Complicate South Section Standings

Third round games in the high school league Saturday promise to give indications as to how the race will finish, and hard battles are looked for as most of the teams in the south section are out to make up for the ties or losses of last week.

Morgan Park, which lost its opening league game to Parker, will attempt to get back in the running when it takes on the Waller crew at Morgan Park. From all indications the Hermosa ave lads will register a win unless Waller has improved greatly since it was overwhelmed. Phillips' mettle is yet untried but the all colored team is certain of a hard game when it meets Marshall's pigskin warriors at White Giants park.

Parker will take advantage of a bye in the schedule by going to Ottawa, Ill., for a clash with preps of that city and the Morgan Park Military academy team will also leave the city, the cadets being slated to meet the Danville, Ill., high eleven.

Standings Complicated

Complications arose in the south section of the big schools' league Saturday as a result of two games that ended in scoreless deadlocks. The 0-0 tie between Bowen and Lindblom dropped the latter school out of a tie with Englewood for league leadership and it is expected that Coach Moore's team will be all fight when it clashes with Hyde Park at White City. Hyde Park, after a poor start against Englewood, came back Saturday and held Tilden to a scoreless tie and as a result the Stony Island ave. squad stands a good chance of turning the same trick on Lindblom as they did on the Techs.

Bowen is another team that upset the dope by holding Lindblom and while the South Chicagoans are practically out of the race they will be avenged if they can break up Englewood's winning streak. Stopping Englewood will be a hard matter for the Purple, besides having a line that is the match of any in the league, has a backfield that is very strong on offensive work.

Tilden to Meet Harrison

Harrison and Tilden Tech battle on the west siders' lot and while neither team stands any great chance to finish near the top the combat appears to be an even match. Tilden's showing against Hyde Park was quite a disappointment to many of the prep league followers and while another scoreless tie is not unexpected Harrison looms as the favorite.

St. Rita's constant improvement makes the local parochials favorites in the game with Loyola academy at Loyola.

Chris O'Brien's Chicago Cardinals will be seen in action again at White Sox park Sunday against the Hammond professionals and still smarting from their defeat at the hands of the Bears, they are expected to take it out on the visitors.

SOUTHTOWN LIGHTS LOSE 18 TO 12 GAME TO HINSDALE TEAM

SPECTACULAR RUNS BY GEORGE NET LOSERS' TOUCHDOWNS

Southtown Lights journeyed to Hinsdale Sunday and came back with the short end of an 18 to 12 score. A fifteen pound advantage in weight to a man was largely responsible for Hinsdale's ability to break through the local's line for its three touchdowns.

Bill George featured the Southtown's offense by getting off for runs of eighty-five and seventy yards, both of which resulted in touchdowns.

In the third quarter the Southtown left half intercepted a forward and wriggled through the entire Hinsdale eleven to sprint all the way from within fifteen yards of his own team's goal line to the opposing squad's goal posts.

He got away again in the closing quarter after receiving a pass from Wagner on his own thirty yard line, shaking off several Hinsdale tacklers.

The Southtowns came out of the game in good shape but Captain Krawl, a former Englewood high player, was slightly injured.

The work of Salisbury, Tracas and Giesler was the feature of Hinsdale's play.

THE SOUTHTOWN WOMAN'S OWN PAGE

THE LATEST
FROM QUEEN FASHION'S COURT
Copyright, 1924, by Public Ledger Company

Paris, Oct. 8.—For morning the little felt hat still remains supreme, but the tendency to make this little chapeau work a great deal of overtime has caused the milliners to "crack their heads," as the French put it, for ideas to tempt.

Apropos the little plain felt, I heard an amusing story of how a very smart milliner was showing "what was worn" to a "would be chic" customer from the province of some country or other. "But it seems a great deal of money for such a plain little hat with no trimming," insisted the purchaser. Probably the poor milliner was overtired or something—you know how they must get at times—but she lost her poise, I am sorry to say, and almost shouted, "Oh! if you want a decorated pastry or a monument, you'll find plenty round the corner!" —which wasn't very polite, was it?

There is this about French hats. They want living up to. A woman accustomed to country styles cannot suddenly step into a French hat, so to speak, and feel at ease any more than the Pope could wear a baseball outfit. She has to get used to it step by step.

Three attractive new hats from Jane Blanchot are sketched for today. The upper and lower ones—the former of black panne, moire ribbon and a silver motif, and the latter also of black panne with fancy silver braid—are suitable for more universal types. The center model—of black panne with old gold braid and glycerined ostrich—is certainly for the tall, slim, elegant dame du monde type who has the bearing of a dignified matron.

Green Tomato Sweet Pickles

Mrs. Irving Brown, 6123 Stewart ave., watches the market for green tomatoes which make their appearance after frosts. From these she makes sweet pickles.

The first step in the process is to remove a thin slice from the blossom ends and the hard portion from around the stems of a peck of green tomatoes. Slice; sprinkle with a cup salt and set aside over night. In the morning drain and boil 15 minutes in 2 quarts boiling water and 1 quart vinegar. Drain again. Cook together 10 minutes 1 gallon cider vinegar, 2 pounds sugar, 3 red pepper pods cut in strips, 1 tablespoon white mustard seed (whole) and 1 cup cinnamon bark, ginger root, mace and whole cloves, mixed in such proportons as desired. Add the tomato and simmer gently nearly an hour. Remove spices which have been tied in a bag and place in fruit jars

Easter White Cake

Several advocates of the dark cake have submitted recipes. Mrs. Florence Moorhouse, 7643 Stewart ave., is just as hearty a supporter of the popularity of the white cake. Her favorite recipe calls for 6 tablespoons butter and 1 cup sugar creamed together; ¼ cup flour and 1¼ teaspoons baking powder sifted together. Add butter and sugar alternately with ½ cup milk. Fold in carefully 3 egg whites stiffly beaten, and add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Bake in a greased pan in a very moderate oven for about 25 minutes. Turn out and cool. Spread the first layer with pineapple, and cover the top with

Coffee Icing

Mix confectioner's sugar with enough strong black coffee to spread well. When dry, melt bitter chocolate and trace delicately over cake with tiny brush or pointed spoon.

Buttered Tea Cookies

Dainty, buttered tea cookies, such as those made by Mrs. W. B. Martin, 107 W. 73rd st., should be admirable for serving when you entertain your club. They would be equally satisfactory for a children's party because of their simple character. Sugar cookies, "baked until they turn a golden brown," are doubled by adding a layer of jelly, while powdered sugar is sprinkled on top. Good enough to eat, we should say the result would be.

One pound sifted cake flour, ½ pound butter, 1 cup sugar, and 2 eggs are the only ingredients necessary for the dough. Rub flour and butter together, adding eggs and sugar which have been beaten together. Knead until the dough is smooth, and allow to stand one hour in a cool place. Then roll thin and cut with round cookie form.

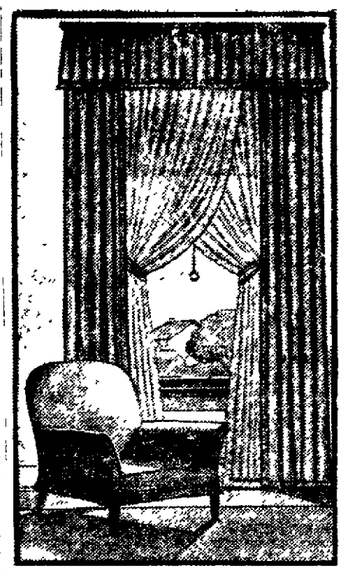
YOUR HOME'S INTERIOR

CURTAINING THE BEDROOM
By G. M. Tencate

Primary requirements for a bedroom curtain are softness and cheerfulness. The majority of sleeping rooms have in them one or two windows. These should give the place an aspect of daintness obtainable by the use of bright but restful color combinations and sheer materials. Monotony must be avoided.

Desired effects are attained for the glass curtains by the selections of soft voile or lace either in white or cream. These may be tied back or hung straight to cover the entire glass, if privacy is desired.

Changeable or one-tone material can be fashioned with pleasing results into a shirred and ruffled valance and a pair of side drapes. These should be held in place with tiebacks of the same material if a straight lace glass curtain has been used. The drapes should hang straight to the top of the baseboard if the lace curtain is tied back.



Triple curtain rods are necessary for the window which is to be hung with a crossed glass curtain. Each of the two curtains is placed on a separate rod. The drapes are suspended by small hooks from these and the valance is placed on the outermost section of the triple rod.

Contrasting colors are permissable for use in the bedroom draperies. One harmonious combination is that of a lavender valance and drapes trimmed with ruffles of a soft green shade. This union of shades is one adapted from nature's palette. Rose and gray, or taupe are two colors appropriate for the boudoir window. The soft tone of gray readily relieves the brightness of its fellow color. The taupe and rose and combination has had particular favor this season.

Long narrow windows in the old fashioned house are wisely treated if the overdrapes are slightly drawn aside to give them an impression of greater width and a lambrequin trimmed with the band of colored materal is placed at the window top to decrease the height.

Bedspreads, chair cushions, chiffonier scarves and the one-toned rug on the floors should retain the color motif selected for the curtains of the bedroom.

Answer—Mrs. M. H.: Your query asks for advice on the length of drapes to be used on your group of triple windows in the dining room, whose lace curtains reach to the sill. That question is a frequent one. Use long side-drapes reaching to the baseboard because that length will give height to windows which, being triple, are apt to look wider than they are high. By all means use the striped material for the drapes. It will assist the illusion of length.

HARVARD FATHERS TO ELECT FRIDAY

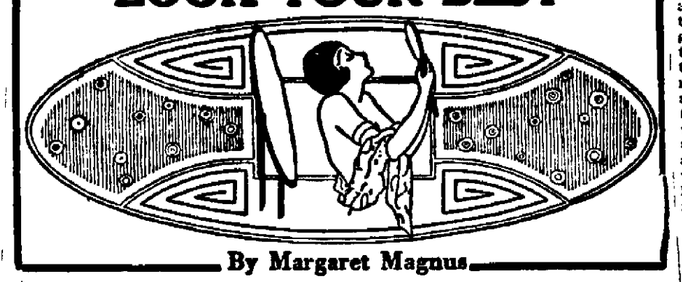
The first annual election of officers of the Harvard School Fathers' club will be held at 8 o'clock next Friday night at the Hamilton Park fieldhouse. A nominating committee headed by M. Hilkert will report a list of nominees and the officers elected from the list will begin immediate preparations for the next year's program and committee appointments. A regular monthly "surprise" will be offered at meetings as has been done recently.

Dr. Rufus A. White of the People's Liberal church, a former member of the school board, addressed a joint meeting of the fathers' club and the Parent-Teachers' association last Friday night at the school. Appreciating the district's problems in its school building, he gave advice as to how the community should proceed to create sentiment for more co-operation in the fight to get an addition to the Harvard school. President Fellowes of the Fathers' club made a brief address.

A cleverly presented one act comedy, "Mrs. Plodder's Nieces," was given by girls of Room 2 directed by Mrs. Anna M. Barry. Room 5 pupils were led in a hunting song and a harvest song by Miss Helen McGirr. Community singing directed by Miss Flora Renaud, the school principal, opened the meeting.

Arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. W. T. Willis, the social chairman, Mrs. Frank Glover, president, and Mrs. J. H. Malloy, secretary.

LOOK YOUR BEST



By Margaret Magnus

A LOVELY MOUTH

A great man once warned "God gave you your other features but you make your mouth yourself"; and while this has often been quoted it has just as often been lost sight of, by women in her eternal search for beauty. The efforts of most women in the direction of self-beautification is spasmodic, or at best periodic; they will faithfully devote themselves to the care of their skin or hair or hands for a little while and try to correct their neglectful habits but the beauty of the mouth they seem absolutely to ignore.

Emerson says that of all the features, the mouth admits of the greatest beauty or the greatest deformity. It can be made a thing of beauty, a joy so long as the beauty lasts, or it may be hard and ugly, indicative of all that is basest in human character. Exquisitely curved, or sensual and selfish and hard—it may be either. It may express purity of thought, contentment, peace and courage or it may betray its owner as a constant yielder to the lower impulses, self-seeking and impervious to the rights of others. To know the man or woman, watch not the eyes but the mouth!

The size and shape of the mouth do not matter greatly in judging the degree of beauty which it may possess, although too obviously, here as elsewhere, moderation is best. A mouth neither too large nor too small, the lips of which are neither too thick nor too thin will more easily lend itself to the achievement of those expressions which will endow it with beauty.

The lips are the center of the nerves surrounded by a network of muscles whose action changes with every thought. They register every change of feeling just as accurately and as immediately as a barometer registers every change in the weather, and the expression which the lips will most frequently display is the one which indicates the thought and feelings most frequently indulged in.

As a man or woman thinketh, so is he or she so far as the lips are concerned. Bitter, stern, thoughts, cruel or deceitful ones, will write their messages into the lines of the mouth, while thoughts of love and hope will keep the lines beautiful.

To illustrate just what the effect of thought is upon the mouth, think of the mouths of your friends as observed when they are engrossed in a task which interests them. Have you seen a woman cutting out a gown, whose mouth moves in conjunction with her scissors? Haven't you seen satisfaction at the completion of a task expressed by the mouth's gesture of completion, or a hard task of rubbing a spot off a gown or ironing something heavy, or cleaning the toe of a shoe, accompanied by the absorption felt by the doer?

Watch the audience about you in a motion picture theater. You do not need to look at the screen to find out what is taking place; look at the people around you and you will see reflected in their facial expressions the action of the villain or the hero, as the case may be.

Children are quick to imitate the facial contortions of the grown-ups with whom they come in contact and very soon little habits fasten themselves upon the child from which he can never shake himself free.

Now, it is not possible to change the natural shape nor size of the mouth but we can guard our actions and in many ways make our mouths appear more beautiful. Many girls these days use their lipsticks to a great disadvantage. They make up their mouths to such an extent that they look twice as large as they really are. Use lip coloring sparingly and only toward the center of the lips. Above all things, never curl your lips in scorn. Think lovely thoughts, unselfish and kindly ones and your mouth and your entire face will reflect them. Do not bite the lips and keep the corners of your mouth curved up.

BYRNE FOR SANITARY DISTRICT TRUSTEE

Alderman Thomas F. Byrne of the 15th ward seeks election as sanitary district trustee on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Byrne has been a member of the city council since 1915, re-elected five times in succession, formerly representing the 29th ward a portion of which is now known as the 15th ward. He was elected to his present term by an overwhelming majority at the last election without necessitating going into a supplementary contest.

Some of the minor accomplishments for the ward for which credit is due to Alderman Byrne's efforts are:

1500 electric street lamps have been placed in the ward with more ordered to be placed.

He has aided in establishing the Emerson school at 56th and Lincoln

Ald. Thomas F. Byrne

sts and is working for new schools at 60th st and Maplewood ave, and 65th st and Sacramento ave.

Car line extensions on Western ave, 59th, 71st and Robey sts have been ordered or installed.

The track elevation at Garfield blvd and Dewitt st is a project brought to accomplishment by Alderman Byrne's effort after a long, hard fight.

Besides these and numerous minor activities the alderman has paid particular attention to garbage and rubbish removal and with the aid of Ward Superintendent Smeskal the ward is now in the best condition of its history.

As sanitary district trustee, Mr. Byrne hopes to bring about a development of the southwest side by hurrying the installation of bridges over the canal that will open up through thoroughfares on several streets west of Western ave, an improvement long wanted but hard to accomplish. Since he has been in office he has always maintained an office in the ward for the convenience of the citizens.

After nine years in the city council, where he has been an active, aggressive alderman taking part in such important activities as the pension fund investigation of which he is chairman, the reorganization of the fire and police departments, and other major committee activities, Alderman Byrne seeks a promotion and asks his friends to cast their vote for him on November 4.—Adv.

portant laws among which are the following:

The Budget Law which has done so much to reduce government expenditures.

The Emergency Tariff and Fordney-McCumber Tariff Laws, which protect the wage-earner and the business man alike.

The Tax Reduction Laws, which resulted in the repeal of the nuisance taxes, a 25 per cent return of income taxes for 1923 and greatly reduced taxes for all, but especially for those of small incomes.

Mr. Sproul voted for a special appropriation which enabled the Department of Justice to prosecute war graft an frauds, and to recover millions of dollars for the treasury of the United States, and has been a co-worker in carrying out a policy of closest economy in government expenditures consistent with efficient operation of Federal activities.

Always active in securing legislation to improve the conditions of the workers, Mr. Sproul aided in the enactment of the law providing for compensation for United States employees and took an active part as a member of the joint House and Senate sub-committee in drafting a bill and securing its passage through both House and Congress for increased salaries for postal employes. He has always been so fair to organized labor that he has its endorsement without solicitation on his part.

In his years of service, Mr. Sproul has risen high in his party's councils and his colleagues in Congress rely upon his judgment in matters of national importance, while his counsel is often a determining factor in party policies.

He holds the confidence and friendship of his colleagues, both Democratic and Republican, but is consistent and unfaltering in the support of the administration and takes pride in his long years of loyalty to Republican principles.

If re-eleced, Mr. Sproul will continue to devote his entire time and undivided attention to the duties entrusted to him.—Executive Committee.—Adv.

CONGRESSMAN SPROUL SEEKS RE-ELECTION ON EFFICIENT RECORD

Elliott W. Sproul republican candidate for congress in the Third Congressional District of Illinois is seeking re-election upon his past record of efficiency and loyal devotion to duty. ENGLEWOOD CAFE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION

The Englewood cafe, 436 W 63rd st, was reopened Sunday under new management, following sale of the business at public auction the morning of October 14. George Makris of Ottowa, Ill, purchased the place at the chattel mortgage foreclosure by assuming responsibility for two mortgages representing $3000, held by the Bonny Small firm and the American Fixture company.

Charles Schmeltzer, 6347 Normal blvd, conducted the restaurant for nearly two and a half years until the establishment became bankrupt, when he closed it October 10. The new owner is proprietor of the French-American cafe in Ottawa.

JOSEPH F. HAAS

Republican Candidate for

RECORDER OF DEEDS

Election Tuesday, November 4, 1924
Polls Open from 6 A. M. to 4 P. M.

A business man for a business office has been the slogan of many a political campaign, but in the case of Joseph F. Haas, Recorder of Deeds, it is more than a slogan. It is an accomplished fact. His office under his administration has become the standard of efficiency for other public offices.

The watchword of the entire life of Joseph F. Haas has been service to the people. His ripe experience, his mature judgment, his unquestioned integrity and his real ability have made his record one of tried and proved efficiency.

As State Senator he was the father of the First Forest Preserve Act ever passed by the Legislature and also of the Municipal Court Act. In fact, he secured for the people more important Chicago legislation than any man who ever sat in the State Senate.

Since 1916 when he was elected to his present position as Recorder of Deeds and Registrar of Titles, the efficiency he has introduced in both the Recorder's Office and Torrens Office has been everywhere recognized.

In December, 1923, J. L. Jacobs, Efficiency Expert appointed by the County Board of Cook County, reported to the Judges of the Circuit Court of Cook County that the Recorder's Office was being administered on a high degree of efficiency, and that the Recorder of Deeds and his department heads and the personnel deserve commendation for the efficient management of the office.

The results of that efficiency show in actual profits made for the people of Cook County. During the year 1923 Joseph F. Haas, as Recorder of Deeds and Registrar of Titles, made a profit of over one hundred thousand dollars for the people of Cook County, and the year 1924 will show an even greater profit.

This Profit Means a Decrease of General Taxes

CAMP KIWANIS GIVES ACCOMMODATONS TO 3,460 SCOUTS IN YEAR

SOUTHWEST DISTRICT EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MAKES REPORT ON ACTIVITIES

Figures compiled for the period of October 1, 1923, to October 8, 1924, show that 3,232 Scouts and 228 Scoutmasters and troop committeemen have taken advantage of the privileges offered by Camp Kiwanis during the year. Two cabins and six tents at the Palos Park forest preserves are maintained by the Kiwanis clubs of Woodlawn and Englewood for the use of Boy Scouts of the South Shore and Southwest districts.

"Besides answering a much felt want for a suitable week-end camp, the camp has provided a concrete means of giving expression to the Boy Scout program," G. H. Schultz, field executive of the local district, said.

Boys from the Stock Yards district were permitted to take advantage of the camp, while numerous parties of outside organizations were held in addition to the Scout meetings. Fathers and sons joined in hikes to Palos Park, while hikes for the training of Scoutmasters were numerous. Picnics for parents of Scouts, Girl Scouts and Sunday school classes were held at the camp, the place being turned over to them exclusively.

New equipment was purchased last year, bringing the cost of incidental expenses to $312.50, and $1,300 as the total cost of maintenance for the year. Contributions from parents of Scouts and other interested persons have been responsible for the installation of a hammock, an organ, coat hangers, mirrors and chairs.

Harold L. Clark, new director of the camp, has a long successful Scouting record and is official examiner for camping, cooking, pioneering and hiking merit badges.
